

“I love my home very much, but it does become like a prison.

It's been the most wonderful thing that has ever happened to me. The people who've hosted me have been truly out of this world.”

When Ina's husband died in 2002, she found herself alone.

Her sisters died soon after her husband, and as she moved into her 90s, many of Ina's friends also passed away. Increasingly isolated, Ina started feeling trapped in her home. One day a leaflet explaining Re-engage's work dropped through Ina's door.
